

Thomas Harriot College of Arts and Sciences
College of Fine Arts and Communications

Dialogues in the Humanities and Social Sciences

"Public Acceptance of Vaccines "

Join a free, public panel discussion addressing these themes: "Culture Wars" - why are vaccines and masks such political flash points? What does public resistance to scientifically backed recommendations regarding vaccines and masks tell us about the relationship of the public to science? What social and political circumstances would make vaccination decision-making easier? The role of behavioral and social science in promotion adopting of COVID-19 prevention precautions. Panelists: Dr. Eric Bailey, Anthropology, ECU, Dr. Alan Christensen, Psychology, ECU, Dr. Maya Goldenberg, Philosophy, The University of Guelph, and Dr. Andrea Kitta, English, ECU.

Wednesday, September 16th, 2020, 6:30-7:45PM

Online WebEx Event

http...

Instructions for joining the event: You do not have to register. If you received an email with a hotlink to the event, just click on the hotlink at 6:30PM. If you do not have WebEx installed, you can join using your browser, or you can download the WebEx app. If you do the latter, try joining a bit earlier than 6:30. If you do not have a hotlink, you can type the event URL into a web browser, or into the WebEx app to join the event. The URL is provided above. Information about other ways to participate is below.

Individuals requesting accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) should contact the ADA Coordinator at least 48 hours prior to the event at (252) 737-1018 / ada-coordinator@ecu.edu